Asks Okay For Work On Creek

The village of Antioch has filed an application with the Illinois division of water resources to authorize construction of a dam and spillway, the cleaning and deepening of the existing channel and the replacement of a culvert with a corrugated metal pipe-arch on Sequoit Creek.

The work would begin at Hillside Ave. to Cunningham Ln.

License Deadline

Michael J. Howlett, Illinois Secretary of State, has extended the deadline for displaying 1977 license plates on vehicles from Dec. 31 to 12 midnight, Feb. 15.

Passenger plates remain on sale over-the-counter at 432 banks and savings and loan associations throughout the state, including the State Bank of Antioch.

High School Low In 'Per Pupil Spending'

Out of 51 school districts in the area, Antioch High School had the lowest increase in "per pupil" costs during the last five years.

The high school district spent only $90 more per pupil last year than it spent five years ago. The expenditure per pupil was $1,454 in 1970-71 and $1,544 last year.

The study, prepared by Regional Superintendent of Schools William Thompson shows what Thompson calls "expenditures per pupil in average daily attendance."

Zion-Benton High School had the highest increase, spending $1,069 per student in 1970-71 and $2,450 in the school year that ended last June. That's a difference of $1,380.

Of the 51 school districts studied, several Antioch area districts were among those with the lowest increases. Lake Villa was 47th with an increase of $276 per pupil and Millburn 50th with an increase of $173 per pupil.

Although the figures show a tremendous range between what schools spend to educate their students, a spokesman for Thompson's office insists there are no generalizations that will explain why in one district they spend almost $1,400 more on each student in average daily attendance than in another school in the same county.

Thompson said expenditures covered in the comparison include all the operating expenses for running the schools on a day-to-day basis. It does not include expenses incurred for new buildings or any capital expenditures.

Deuster Presents Vandalism Bill Again

State Rep. Donald E. Deuster (R. Mundelein) has re-introduced legislation to increase the legal liability of parents for vandalism caused by their minor children.

UNDER PRESENT ILLINOIS LAW, "the parent or legal guardian of an unemancipated minor (age 12 through 18) who resides with such parent or legal guardian is liable for actual damages for the willful or malicious acts of such minor which cause injury to a person or property."

The Deuster bill raises the present $500 liability limit to $1,000 and is identical with the vandalism ordinance recently adopted by the Cook County Board.

Although the Illinois House of Representatives passed this change in the law in 1975, Deuster's bill was not approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee where it died. Deuster is confident that growing public alarm over the spread of vandalism will insure adoption into law of House Bill 52 in the 1977 Session of the General Assembly.

In filing H.B. 52 for consideration by the General Assembly in 1977, Deuster said, "Vandalism by irresponsible juveniles continues to be a costly problem perplexing communities throughout Illinois. Legal responsibility for willful and malicious damage already rests with the parents of young vandals."

CLC Honored for Outstanding Design

The architectural firm that designed the College of Lake County's permanent buildings has received an award for the work from the Southern Illinois Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Hellmuth, Obata & Kassabaum, Inc. (HOK) was cited by the judges for outstanding design work.

Chairman Alan Forrester, head of the design faculty for the University of Illinois School of Architecture, said, "The environment which was created by the architects and the use of materials were well conceived."

"The function of the building was very well designed, and the judges were especially impressed with the concern for an economic solution and the excellent circulation system which allowed students to move from one area to another along a circulation spine," he added.

Edward F. Bartz, president of HOK, presented the award to Dr. Richard Erzen, CLC president.

Letters

Dear Editor:

A happy new year to the Antioch community from the park commission and a whole-hearted thanks for your support of the park programs. I can reflect upon a past year which was rewarding, full of good times and only hope for an even more exciting new year.

I would like to especially thank Mr. Henry Meyer and the school board of Dist. 34 for their support and enthusiasm for the park program. Also, thanks to Mr. John Kakacek, principal of Emmons Grade School for the use of the school and for his undying cooperation with the park program.

Without the support of the schools in our district, our program could not be as successful as it was and we would be at a loss for space.

I wish you all the best in the new year, peace and prosperity. And, of course, my thanks to my community supporters and to my helpers, Elaine Weber, Joyce Kufalk, Gail West, Cathy Tanner, Judy Schoelzel, Margaret Tanner, Kim Vasek, Julie Ellis and Liz Bishoff.

To Joan Vistain, I send a very special thanks.

Let's Give Carter a Chance

Ralph Nader pouted. Jimmy Carter had not done precisely as the Nader types wished when it came to picking his cabinet. At least they weren't willing to withhold judgement till after he had finished the process and taken office.

Behind them was a Greek chorus of editorial page and airwave pundits who stroked their chins and furrowed their brows while second-guessing all of Carter's decisions.

The political reporters - themselves facing deadlines as inevitable as ever, but with very little to report - resorted to a non-stop speculative hash and rehash of who would be chosen for which job and how well he or she could be expected to perform.

ALTOGETHER, THE TRANSITION between administrations has been a restless time for Washington, D.C.

With Congress not around to arm twist, the special interests and assorted axe grinders have had to make do by trying to lean on Carter through whatever attention they could attract from the news media.

Though we don't expect to be bashful about criticizing Carter goofs when they occur, it seems we owe the new President the benefit of the doubt, at least for now.

He will have his hands full, wrestling that King Kong of bureaucracies by-the-Potomac; nudging the economy forward without aggravating inflation; and preventing the Russians from permanently assigning us to No. 2 in defense capability.

He should have a chance to get on with those jobs without a lot of Monday morning quarterbacks doing their stuff before the game has begun.

Blood Donor Month

Across the nation, January is observed as Volunteer Blood Donor Month.

St. Therese Hospital, 2615 W. Washington St., Waukegan, has blood donor facilities and invites residents of our community to be blood donors during January and throughout 1977.

THE BLOOD BANK IS OPEN Mondays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.; Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.; and some Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m. It is advisable to call 688-2707 for an appointment to avoid waiting.

Because blood has no manufactured substitute and a life of only 21 days, regular blood donations are needed. Persons between the ages of 17 and 66, weighing at least 110 lbs. and in good health, are probably eligible to give.

Resolutions for Republicans

By RONALD REAGAN

Four New Year's resolutions for Republicans (they already have one - 1977 is the year to get their act together):

First, the Republican National Committee will choose a chairman on Jan. 15. Choose one who understands winning. No one likes to lose, so find one who knows how to organize; knows the nuts and bolts of party work, but also knows something about the issues that turn non-Republicans on; knows how to win and has proved it; and does it all without raising the hackles of his fellow Republicans.

SECOND, GO WHERE the ducks are. Everyone but Rip Van Winkle must know by now that 1976 polls (and the trends began earlier) show the nation turning less liberal and more conservative all the time. The Democrats have discovered it. It helped them win elections in November. Even allowing for different definitions of the words, "liberal" and "conservative," Republicans can take advantage of these facts.

In January 1976, by 43 to 19 percent, those polls by Harris said they would "Prefer to see the country move in a more conservative direction than a liberal one."

In September, when Gallup asked people where they were on a scale ranging from left-of-center to right-of-center, 37 percent said "left," 12 percent said "middle," and 51 percent said "right."

And so it has been going: Most Republicans would put themselves somewhere to the right of most Democrats. So do a majority of independents (again according to the polls) on such issues as reducing government versus bigger government; strengthening national defense versus cutting it; local control versus central control; containing Another disturbing example of job discrimination is the fact that women have a monopoly in the "advice to the lovelorn" field.

Since women usually are at fault in battles of the sexes, and men are merely the helpless victims, a man really is more qualified to offer solutions.

To show what I mean, I will share and answer some of the personal mail I have received, which previously has gone unpublished.

DEAR GERARD:

My mother-in-law hates me. She is constantly taking my wife's side in our arguments and harping at me just because I bowl four nights a week, play poker with the boys, fish all summer and go hunting whenever I get a chance. What can I do to square things with my mother-in-law?

"Bullseye Bob"
Bug Tussle, Tex.

Dear Bullseye:

Take her along on your next hunting trip.

DEAR GERARD:

My wife ignores me completely. She spends all of her time either glued to the TV set, reading movie and fan magazines, or raving about the charms of Robert Conrad, Burt Reynolds, Rock Hudson and Efrem Zimbalist Jr. The only time she talks to me is when she orders me to carry out the garbage.

"King Kong"
Kokomo, Ind.

Dear King:

Let Conrad, Reynolds, Hudson and Zimbalist carry out the garbage.

DEAR GERARD:

My wife embarrasses me at parties. She is the kind who drinks too much, then bores everyone with card tricks and bad jokes.

Heartbroken
Valentine, Neb.

Dear Val:

Shift for yourself. I've got my own problems. My wife does bird imitations. She watches me like a hawk.

DEAR GERARD:

My husband treats me like a slave. He won't help me with the dishes, and won't buy me a dishwasher. Even though I do most of the housework, he insists on having me in a pretty dress, with the fireplace crackling and soft music playing when he comes home for dinner. The other night I wanted to watch Lawrence Welk, but he turned on the hockey game. I don't know how to change him.

Eve
Loves Park, Ill.

My Dear Young Lady:

You obviously overlook the fact that you promised to love, cherish and obey your husband. You were put on this earth to serve him. Remember, he is the lord and master. His job is to make the living, and yours is to make the living worthwhile. Apparently you need more help than I can offer in this brief space. Please send for my free book, "He's Okay, You're Not Okay." Enclose $39.98 for handling.

taxes versus adding new social welfare schemes (such as compulsory national health insurance).

WHAT REPUBLICANS NEED to do is merchandise the dickens out of those sections of their 1976 platform that clearly match the aspirations of a majority of independents and conservative Democrats (and most sections do).

Third, speak out. Invite those independents and conservative Democrats to join the GOP and keep on inviting them. Reputation makes reputation, as the saying goes and the inviting should come, not just from the national chairman, but also from a cadre of Republican experts and spokesmen.

Counter White House initiatives with Republican programs consistent with Republican principles, and give those spokesmen a chance to tell the country about them.

REVIVE THE SHOW: A Capitol Hill corollary: Revive the Ev and Charlie Show, that daily Republican television staple of the early 1960's (this time as the Bob and John Show, with Minority Leaders Senator Bob Griffin and Representative John Rhodes).

Once the Carters move into the White House, the news media will look to Republicans on the Hill for opposition replies to White House initiatives. Since most Americans are said to get their daily headlines from television these days, here is a chance to harpoon the opposition when they've earned it and to offer some GOP-created alternatives.

Fourth, attract black voters and young people, but do it by example. Not rhetoric.

Most black citizens want what most white citizens want: a chance at a decent job, a home, a good education for their kids, and streets free of crime.

When the Republican Party makes it clear that it stands for a set of principles that recognize these wants, black voters who can identify their self-interests with these principles will join forces.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE idealistic, and also full of energy. They respect sincerity. Show them a party that has a well-thought-out idea of where it is going and that it is solidly behind individuals' rights, and I'll show you a party that gets their respect. Active participation will follow.

For those Republican politicians who have noticed, that was the end of 1976, not early 1968.

The campuses and young people don't look the same. They think for themselves too. If they do get their act together, the Republicans might look back on 1977 as the year they turned the GOP into the GNP Grand New Party!

Gas Prices Increase

Motorists will be paying from two to three cents more per gallon for fuel than at the same time last year, the Chicago Motor Club's final fuel-gauge survey of 1976 shows.

In the Chicago metropolitan area, average prices of both regular and premium were up three-tenths of a cent: regular to 63.5 cents a gallon and premium to 68.9 cents a gallon. Unleaded was up four-tenths of a cent to 66.5 cents a gallon.

In northern Indiana, average prices are 59.7 cents for regular, up one-tenth of a cent, premium 63.8 cents, up three-tenths of a cent, and unleaded 61.9 cents, down two-tenths of a cent. Indiana prices do not include sales tax which is added on to the pump price.

The spread between the lowest and highest prices for all grades of gasoline ranges from 10 to 13 cents a gallon, the survey showed.

"MILLION DOLLAR MAN" -- Jim Rinehart of Lake Villa (right) is Abbott Laboratories' Million Dollar Man. The 27-year-old mechanic captured the title by earning three suggestion awards totaling $2,415. That boosted past $1 million the amount Abbott employees have earned during the 40 year history of the company's suggestion program. Jim earned the largest of his three awards - $1,200 - for suggesting a method that improved the package wrapping of intravenous administration sets. He received his checks and a plaque from Robert Schoellhorn, president and chief operating officer.

The Town Crier

We didn't publish during the holidays ... the Antioch News traditionally unlocks the chains that connect its employees to their desks and lets them free for a whole week ... but in the meantime we ran across a Christmas story and (perhaps it's late) but we'd like to share it with you.

It's a long way - in time and distance - from a manger in Bethlehem to a comfortable home in Piedmont, Calif. But there is something in common. In each, a child was born.

In the case of the California home, it wasn't one child, but 13. And each was really reborn, for each had been dealt - in his or her short years - more than a normal life's worth of blows.

Karen, black, had come into this world without arms or legs. Wendy was blind. J.R. was blind and confined to a wheelchair.

Thich and Ann had been hit by stray shells in Vietnam and crippled. Thuy was paralyzed. So was Sunee. And so it went with each of the adopted "special kids" of Dorothy and Bob DeBolt, a couple so filled with the joy of living and so willing to apply the knowledge learned from rearing six of their own children, that they reached out to bring these special youngsters into their orbit, their family.

THE MILK OF human kindness flowed in that home in Piedmont because each child in it has found a family; is no longer doomed to life in an institution. Each has received the gift of love and will in turn pass it on to children yet unborn.

Franz Gruber, inspired by the message of love that is the celebration of Christ's birth, more than 150 years ago in a village in Austria wrote "Silent Night, Holy Night" - that most simple but most beautiful of Christmas songs - when the organist could not make it to church.

At least that is one version. I've also read that the organ broke down. Anyway they couldn't use the organ, so "Silent Night" was written for the guitar, but it is the clear beauty of the human voice that most hauntingly carries that message of love today each time the song is heard.

SO IT WAS with the husband and wife in the O. Henry story. She sold her hair to buy him the watch fob he so desired. He sold his watch, to buy her a comb for her beautiful long hair. Love brings love.

Unlike individuals, nations cannot and do not show love for one another. Collective friendship maybe, but not love. And the friendship in many cases doesn't run very deep. Diplomats and statesmen ponder, discuss, argue and threaten one another over food, minerals, trade and territory. It seems to have always been so and may always be so in the future.

YET, CHRISTMAS at least is one time of the year when a simple truth can stand out: the truth that individual human beings - the DeBolts, the Franz Grubers, the husband and wife of the O. Henry story and millions of others around the globe - show love, inspiration, trust, sacrifice for others. They prove again and again man's humanity to man.

And isn't it ironic that the answer to all our problems is contained in the simple teachings of the man who was born on that silent, holy night?

And so many diplomats and statesmen ignore it?

request included $30,000 to demolish an abandoned Willowdale Dairy building.

THE FEDERAL GRANT was Antioch's only hope to fund the projects. Myron Dodge, U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) spokesman, said that Congress may release additional money for the project, designed to ease unemployment in the building trades.

Dodge said he was uncertain whether municipalities would have to reapply, commenting that an important factor would be any change in application requirements.

What Happens When 17,000 Students Get Together

By BETSY ROSSEN

If you were reading or listening to the news over the weekend, you might have heard that Billy Graham has been hospitalized with phlebitis.

He was ordered, as a precaution by his doctors, to shorten his stay at the University of Illinois where, according to at least one broadcaster, "he was talking with the U. of I. students there."

WELL, YES, ABOUT 75 Illini students were there, but so were more than 17,000 others from around the world.

The event was Urbana '76, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship's 11th annual missions convention, held Dec. 27-31. Through the speakers, displays, dorm discussions and casual conversations, delegates and mission representatives were challenged by the theme, "Declare His Glory Among the Nations."

Because the Antioch News does not publish between Christmas and New Year's, I was especially thankful to go. I was unable to attend the last convention, Urbana '73, and determined right after that to go to the next gathering.

APPROXIMATELY 3,000 MORE applications were received after registration was closed early in December. The main limitation on the size of the convention was the assembly hall capacity, 17,000.

Every available space was used in the university dormitories and union, plus many fraternities, sororities and motels.

WHY WOULD SO MANY want to spend a portion of their Christmas vacation in this way?

The speakers were definitely a factor, for in addition to Dr. Graham, they included other men and women who know much of world events and the church's responsibility.

Among them were Luis Palau, Argentine evangelist; John Perkins, a leader in educational and social outreach in Mississippi; Helen Roseveare, a medical doctor in Zaire who suffered through the Congo rebellions; and Samuel Kamaleson, a man raised in India who now plays an active role in alleviating world hunger.

BY FAR THE MOST WELL-RECEIVED and appreciated speaker was Elisabeth Elliot Leitch. She is the widow of Jim Elliot, martyred in 1956 by the savage Aucas Indians of Ecuador.

She continued to work with the Aucas after the tragedy, believing her response and continued loving outreach to the Ecuadorians would do more to shape her life than the death itself. She was right.

THAT'S WHY URBANA is held every three years and why so many participate: they are convinced it is not only possible, but is their responsibility to reach the world with God's love.

In addition to thinking of the future, they determined to take an active part right away. Through special arrangements with the university, the convention was given $1 for every Wednesday lunch skipped. The money was then divided between three missions to the world's hungry: the international organizations World Vision and Food for the Hungry, and Mississippi's Voice of Calvary Ministries.

15,000 decided not to eat lunch; an offering that evening brought the final total to $23,000.

THE MAJORITY OF THE DELEGATES were U.S. college students, who were asked on Thursday to contribute to college fellowships overseas. Outstanding in their minds were the students of eastern Europe, many of whom are restricted in or denied higher education because they are Christians.

The count at the close of the convention was $250,000. They still weren't through tabulating.

THE DELEGATES WERE SAYING people have alternatives.

Alternatives to traditional Christmas vacations. Alternatives to just talking about problems. Alternatives for the future.

For the 17,000-plus who attended Urbana '76, things will never be quite the same.

Central registration for spring classes at the College of Lake County will be held Jan. 10 through Jan. 12. Classes begin Jan. 14.

District residents with last names beginning with letters L through Z will register Monday, Jan. 10. Other district residents will register the following day. Non-district residents and others will register on Wednesday, Jan. 12.

Registration times are 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. each day. Information can be obtained by calling 223-6601, extension 300.

A PROPOSED football program at the College of Lake County was turned down by the board of trustees at its meeting Dec. 28. The primary reason cited by the board was financial, although Trustee Glenn Carlson said he opposed the program for philosophical reasons.

Douglas Sherman, director of athletics, said the program could be initiated for a cost of approximately $60 thousand.

In other action, the board received a report from Dr. Randolph Webster, vice president for student services, that 6,758 students have registered for spring classes at CLC.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Welcome to the Yukon!

We always try to keep cool, calm and collected around the Antioch News office, but for the last few days we've had trouble keeping warm!

The furnace went out, you know, and have you ever tried typing with icicles on your fingers?

In fact, the Antioch News might not have come out at all this week if some of our friends - Bill Herbst, Thompson's Restaurant, and George Plack - hadn't brought over space heaters.

The snowy scenes in rural Antioch sure have been lovely, though.

QUESTION: WHEN is a Christmas open house a surprise baby shower?

Answer: when your husband is able to keep a secret.

Ruth Warren was pleasantly surprised over the holidays when the open house turned out to be a baby shower in her honor. Hostess for the get-together was Mary Matteoni.

Ruth and Mike are expecting their third child any day now.

SPEAKING OF NEW YEAR NEWBORNS, Wayne and Kathy Sobczak of Oakwood Knolls are now the proud parents of a lovely little gal.

Elizabeth, their first child, was born at 2 a.m. last Friday.

While we're on the subject of birthdays, we sent belated wishes to Kathy Huber, who celebrated on the 1st, and Cathy Haley, whose birthday was the following day.

SO SORRY TO HEAR THAT Howard and Marge Krehemker, Lindenhurst, had to spend their 35th anniversary, Dec. 27, in the hospital.

Their daughter, Linda Garcia, tells us that they were in a car accident earlier last month and are recovering in St. Therese's. They're both out of danger now, mending some broken bones.

GLAD TO KNOW that Dick Stromberg of Rt. 2 is feeling better and hope he'll be at full strength real soon.

Get well wishes are also sent to Irene Klemz, owner of Irene's Flair Coiffure.

HEAR TELL that newlyweds Lynette and Allen Moon are now at home in Antioch:

The former Lynette Kathe, daughter of Antioch's Mr. and Mrs. William Kathe, became Allen's bride in a ceremony at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moon of Zion.

ABC's of Travel

By BARB CORBIN

Good news for travelers!

The new advanced booking charters (ABC) just approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board could represent the biggest breakthrough yet in low cost air fares. Even more important than the one-stop tour charters (OTC) that began approximately one year ago, the ABC's get underway completely this month for a five-year trial period.

THE OPERATION is simple.

Travelers do not have to belong to an affinity group nor buy tour packages that include hotel accommodations and other ground features. The major requirement is that you buy a round trip ticket in advance: 30 days ahead of departure for trips within the USA and to most other countries and 45 days ahead for flights to nine European countries (Belgium, Britain, Finland, France, West Germany, Ireland, Italy, the Netherlands and Switzerland).

PASSENGERS MUST REMAIN in the nine European countries at least seven days, but no

NEXT WEDNESDAY, Joe and Carol Badame will be celebrating their second wedding anniversary. We're a little envious because they'll be celebrating it in Fort Myers Beach, Fla. ... but it couldn't happen to a nicer young couple.

POLICE DISPATCHER Garnet Cook tells us that her co-worker Debbie Blessing started work this week at the Evergreen Cafe.

About all the news for this week: be sure to let us know all the happenings.

minimum stay is necessary at other destinations.

The best feature of all: there is no minimum price on the ABC's. Airlines and charter operators that offer ABC charters are free to compete, and this competition could drive down ticket prices to new lows.

FOR MORE ON fares, check with your local travel agent because he has all the information and can save you dollars.

This is what one can call a bargain in travel: in the USA and around the world.

CLC Even Offers Help In Reading and Writing

By DIANA VICKERY

Joan C. is a 40-year-old freshman at the College of Lake County. She has been away from school for over 20 years and needs a bit of brushing up in English grammar to do well in her first composition course.

Bill R. is a good student at CLC but he is working nearly 30 hours a week. Bill wants to learn to read faster so that he can use his study hours more efficiently.

Betty M. is an honor student at CLC. She will complete her associate in arts degree in the spring. But right now, she is having a difficult time passing accounting.

Joseph V. didn't do well in high school but at the age of 24 would like to begin work in the CLC electronics program. Joseph needs help with reading, study skills and mathematics before he begins to tackle the course work in electronics.

"EACH STUDENT we serve is different - there is no 'typical' student; these four are merely examples of the many students DSR helps," said Katharine Barnes, head of developmental services at the college.

According to Dr. Barnes, developmental services began offering tutoring services with a small staff in the college's pioneer years. Now the staff has grown to nine full-time instructors and many part-time instructors.

Services are offered in reading, writing and study skills to help students with general academic problems. Those with problems in specific subject areas such as science, mathematics, business, social science and nursing can also be helped.

The DSR uses programed materials, study cards prepared by the staff for individual courses and one-to-one teaching.

"DIFFERENT STUDENTS may need help for a few hours a week for a few weeks, or extensive help throughout the semester. DSR is designed to be flexible enough to meet the student's individual needs," said Dr. Barnes.

Dr. Barnes admitted there is great satisfaction in seeing students and former students do well in classes. Many DSR students eventually earn academic honors.

"It's a good feeling to see a former student on campus and have him say, almost apologetically, that he really doesn't need DSR anymore," she said. "That tells us that we helped."

ARIES [March 21-April 19] As views are apt to change on certain issues, be prepared to do some explaining to associates who aren't willing to make concessions. Take initiative and do things on your own.

TAURUS [April 20-May 20] - Go about each task you undertake with patience and diligence. A week when you should pay more attention to thoroughness.

SAGITTARIUS [November 22-December 20] - Be possessive of your leisure time which plays an important part in maintaining a well-balanced week. Decline invitations which you view as obligations.

CAPRICORN [December 21-January 20] - You can now make an impressive show with superiors by letting your creative talents come to the fore. Be more aggressive and communicative with your views.

AQUARIUS [January 21-February 19] - Unusual circumstances may put a temporary damper on plans but make the adjustment, taking things on a day-to-day basis. Relative are quick with the advice.

PISCES [February 20-March 20] - The need for a quieter, more subdued pace is important. Seek some time alone to contemplate what's in store for the coming year and how to best advance your aspirations.

Sequoits Will Play Woodstock Here

But First, They Travel to Grant

Antioch High's basketball team returns to its home floor Saturday night to perform for the local fans.

The Sequoits will play Woodstock at about 8 p.m., following a 6:45 o'clock sophomore game.

But first, both the sophomores and the varsity must travel to Fox Lake on Friday night for games against Grant's Bulldogs. Starting times are the same, 6:45 and about 8 o'clock.

In the Rockford Classic tournament, the Antioch Sequoits' first game was against the number 4 seeded team in the tourney - a good solid, very quick Mendel Catholic.

The Sequoits were able to control the tempo of the game - staying with the Mendel team right down to the wire, only to lose 64-59 in a hard fought battle.

Poise, working their offense and some fine rebounding keynoted the Sequoit play.

Steve Pilcher, came off the bench to do an outstanding job, playing some fine defense and going to the basket and scoring inside. He led the team in scoring with 14 points, followed by Bill Dubek with 13 and Brian Andrews with 12 points.

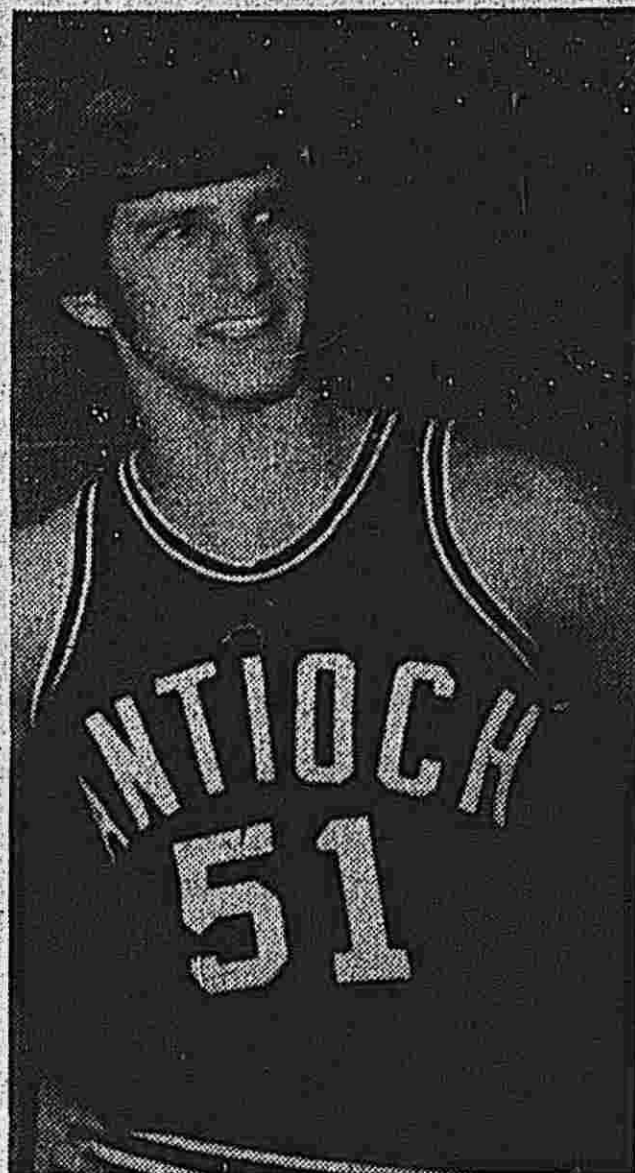

Tracy Sodman and Andrews both played big roles in keeping the Sequoits in the game with their all-around solid performances.

Mendel Catholic went on in the tournament to win third place. The Sequoits played a very strong and solid ball game against Mendel and can be proud of their over-all performance, Coach Roger Andrews said.

On Wednesday morning the Sequoits took on the Geneva Vikings in their first consolation game.

The Antioch team started fast and held the upper hand throughout the game to win 63-57.

Continuing to play good basketball the Sequoits started fast, jumping to a 21-6 first quarter lead. In the second quarter the Sequoits opened up a lead 31-12, at which time Coach Andrews began to substitute and by the half the score stood 37-25 because the Antioch cagers had lost some of their momentum.

THE SECOND HALF was one of struggle as the Sequoits could not regain their early momentum. But, all in all, the team did a good job and continued to show individual and team improvement.

Again, Pilcher did a good job and hit the nets for 14 points. Dubek regained his shooting eye, hit 8 of 11 shots and finished the game with 16 points. Tracy Sodman was the strong man on the boards with 8. Brian Andrews played a strong game - handling the press and contributing 11 points.

THE NEXT GAME for the Sequoits was on Thursday morning. Playing their best game, the Antioch cagers won 60-59.

The Chicago Fenger team was very tall, quick and had some real jumpers. It was a pleasure to watch the Sequoits play the type of ball that proved to be successful. Dennis Korjenek lead the floor play, as the Sequoits ran their offense very well. Brian Andrews penetrated their defense for some easy baskets and late in the game helped with some clutch free throws.

Tim Huebner did a very good job in the second half, rebounding and scoring some key baskets.

Bill Dubek contributed 16 points, but more important, he helped with the rebounding by grabbing 8 boards.

"The victory was really a team effort, as all players contributed a great deal to the successful venture," Coach Andrews said.

The victory over Fenger moved the Sequoits into the consolation championship game against a strong Rock Island team. The Rock Island Rocks emerged as the victor, using their speed and extra rest to subdue the Antioch cagers 58-40.

The two teams were really quite equal - but the extra rest the Rocks had was too big a factor. The fatigue hurt the Sequoits in shooting as they could hit only 16 baskets of 54 attempts.

During the course of the game the Sequoits never quit and retained their poise, worked their offense very well, but just couldn't hit from the field on the foul line.

"Without question, the tournament was very successful for the Sequoit cagers," Coach Andrews said. "Good competition, quick teams, valuable experience. Our team did a lot of maturing in the tournament. The team played steady, consistent basketball and some very good basketball. As coach, I am real proud of the team and their progress. It is a real treat to watch these young men grow and mature as they have. It's terrific!"

Antioch Freshmen 3rd in Tournament

Zion-Benton defeated North Chicago 44-42 to win the eight-team Antioch freshman basketball tourney.

Antioch grabbed third place by downing Highland Park 44-41 and H.D. Jacobs took the consolation trophy.

Niles North finished sixth, Grayslake seventh and Crown was eighth.

The game summaries for Antioch: Antioch vs. Crown - Antioch blitzed the Vikings with a 38 point second half to win going away, 55-30. Nine players scored for the Sequoits, led by Ron Nauman's 13 points. Bob Rumps added nine and Denis Flaschner eight.

Antioch vs. North Chicago - Antioch again started slowly before taking a two-point lead with one minute left. Missed free throws, however, allowed the Warhawks to eke out a 32-30 win. Todd Coulter and Kurt Selak led Antioch with six points each.

Antioch vs. Highland Park - Following their habit of coming back in the second half, the Sequoits rallied from a 19-13 halftime deficit to win 44-41. The surge was led by Flaschner with 12 points in the last two periods. Mike Anderson tallied eight points and Coulter chipped in seven for the host school. Jim Wiese led in rebounds with eight.

Coach Norm Hahn praised his team for its fine tournament play. He said he feels the freshmen have begun to jell and will be ready to resume league play on Jan. 8.

Mike Anderson was singled out for special praise by Coach Hahn because of his ball handling, defense and leadership.

Hahn also wanted to thank, on behalf of his team, all the people who worked the tournament without pay.

Basketball Contest

There was a three-way tie for first in the Dec. 28 Antioch News basketball contest.

Laura Stewart, Gary Volling and Shirley Gutowski all predicted that Antioch would .. unfortunately .. lose by seven points to Chicago Mendel in the Rockford Christmas tournament.

The $30 worth of prizes will be divided among them and will be in the mail this week.

Two others came close .. Joe Koch and Mike Koss picked Mendel to beat Antioch by eight points. Mendel won by five.

A brand new contest appears in this week's Antioch News. Be sure to enter before 8 p.m. Friday, when Antioch plays at Grant. See page 13 for complete details.

Sequoit Wrestlers Here Friday

Antioch High's varsity wrestling team will attract fans to the school gymnasium Friday night when it tangles with Grant's Bulldogs, beginning at 6:45 o'clock. Both teams are conference powers.

On Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, Coach Ted DeRousse's Sequoit wrestlers will travel to Harvard to compete against that team, plus Dundee and Woodstock.

As usual, Antioch has some fine athletes on its wrestling team. In the Glenbrook South tournament during the holidays the Sequoits took on tremendous competition and Rich Gorski placed third at 167 pounds and John Kakacek fourth at 132 pounds.

Consolation titles were won by Jon Gibson, who has an 11-6 record at 98 pounds; Bob Gossman, who is 9-5 at 105 pounds; Jeff Gross, 6-2 at 112 pounds and Randy Larsen, 8-5 at 126 pounds.

Other Sequoit records are Marvin Gibson's 9-3 mark at 119 pounds, Kakacek's 13-4 record and Gorski's 10-5 record.
